strangers on the plane. If we learn to share our stories well, then people will have a positive association. As salespeople, we can link stories to our key points. As trainers, we can tell stories that teach a lesson, and we can create ones that give context and meaning to our message. Only storytelling guarantees we'll hook the attention of the audience then they'll be engaged in what we have to say. Learn about the 7 strategies for telling stories people love and every time you talk, you'll be confident you'll be making a great impression. Mark Davis shares the secrets to getting the stories you already tell, and making them better. Get a great result by telling stories your audience will love.

arenas of persuasion, communication, presentation, psychology, and even from recent studies in the field of brain science! Now, whether you are a CEO, a corporate VP, a sales pro, a lawyer, a teacher, a minister, or a politician—you can use these secrets too. Based on their analysis of over 300 of Obama's appearances worldwide, from the 1990s until August 2011, and by utilizing their more than twenty-five years of experience, international communication guru Gil Peretz, and Defense Counsel and NLP expert Nili Peretz, have cracked the secret code of Obama's techniques and show you, step-by-step, how his "magical rhetoric skills" can translate into your own success. In the first part of the book, you will be exposed to the "street smarts" that will help you transform your messages so that they will penetrate the hearts and souls of your listeners. Part two will show you how the way you think helps to influence and persuade. Something more is required beyond tactics and methods, something much more basic and profound related to our way of thinking. In the third part, you will become acquainted with Obama's "message engineering." You will be provided with a simple implementation toolkit that will enable you to quickly improve the way you convey your messages in all areas. You will be able to use the secrets of other charismatic leaders such as Winston Churchill, John Kennedy, and Bill Clinton, and business pioneers such as Steve Jobs, Jack Welch, and Stephen Covey. In part four, you will discover how Obama made people fall in love with him in 2008 and become enthralled by his messages, and you will get to know how to activate these secrets of infatuation. You will upgrade your skills in creating human chemistry and intimate closeness with a heterogeneous audience—the key to influencing and leading people. Part five will expose you to the right tools to communicate with the "right brain" and tap into the subconscious mind of your listeners. It works like magic. You will be exposed to the naturalness with which the mind absorbs stories and the way in which they directly penetrate the subconscious. After that, you will see how Obama uses "thought programs" to "program" the audience's mind and "glue" messages thereto. You can use these secrets too, and—no less important—you will upgrade your alertness level when others try to influence you. In the sixth part you will learn how Obama uses effective linguistic patterns to convey messages. Here, too, you will be provided with a very useful toolbox, with emphasis not only on the tools themselves, but also on the reasons why these tools are effective. And finally, you will be exposed to the power of non-verbal communication, which is an integral part of any interpersonal communication. Often it is not what you say; it's how you say it. A brief and concise summary on the last page of each chapter will allow you to use the book quickly and efficiently when preparing for your next presentation, speech, or sales call. Do you want to be Magnetizing? Charismatic? Eloquent? Captivating? Persuasive? Heart-piercing? A master of words? When you know what they are, you will be able to use Obama's secrets in order to communicate your messages like a pro, inspire any audience, stimulate action, and gain a competitive advantage. When I coach speaking, my specialty is to help the speaker make a real and significant change during one private session of less than two hours. This is intimate, intense, and with a complete stranger face-to-face. We cannot address everything, but we can find "the key" that is holding that person back from being the very best they can be. I learned this from the culmination of my life's journey, as told by the real-life experiences in this book. If you look at what I have done, you can sum it up as a study in people. There are no techniques or theories in this book. Every solution given to you has been done by me and witnessed in others, hundreds of times. Everything is proven and everything works.

“It’s not the magic that makes it work; it’s the way we work that makes it magic.” The secret for creating “magic” in our careers, our organizations, and our lives is simple: outstanding leadership—the kind that inspires employees, delights customers, and achieves extraordinary business results. No one knows more about this kind of leadership than Lee Cockerell, the man who ran Walt Disney World® Resort operations for over a decade. And in Creating Magic, he shares the leadership principles that not only guided his own journey from a poor farm boy in Oklahoma to the head of operations for a multibillion dollar enterprise, but that also soon came to form the cultural bedrock of the world’s number one vacation destination. But as Lee demonstrates, great leadership isn’t about mastering impossibly complex management theories. We can all become outstanding leaders by following the ten practical, common sense strategies outlined in this remarkable book. As straightforward as they are profound, these leadership lessons include: Everyone is important. Make your people your brand. Burn the free fuel: appreciation, recognition, and encouragement. Give people a purpose, not just a job.

Chris Anderson is the curator of phenomenally successful TED talks - over one billion views and counting. He is passionate about the importance of public speaking, something he describes as a crucial life skill and which we should be teaching in school, and of the amazing power of direct human-to-human communication, recorded on video, in the internet age. It is now possible to share ideas with millions around the world (as evidenced by the success of TED itself, whose most popular talk has been viewed 31 million times). In his first book, Talk This Way, he shares his passion for public speaking and offers a master-class in how to do it - not just how to give a great TED talk, but how to stand up and speak persuasively in front of any size of audience, whether that is a school classroom, making a video blog, in a business meeting or at a conference. The book brings together his experience of over two decades as the curator of TED, in which time he has listened to over one thousand stage talks, with advice from 30 of his all-time favourite TED speakers.
