Trillion Dollar Coach

Ladybird Readers is an ELT graded reader series for children aged 3-11 learning English as a foreign or second language. The series includes traditional tales, popular characters, modern stories, and non-fiction. Beautifully illustrated and carefully written by language learning experts, the series combines the best of Ladybird content with the structured language progression that will help children develop their reading, writing, speaking, listening and critical thinking skills. The eight levels follow the Common European Framework of Reference for language learning (CEFR) and include language activities that provide preparation for the Cambridge English Pre-A1 to A2 (YLE) tests. Visit the Ladybird Readers website for more information. The unique code provided in each printed book will provide access to audio, extra activities and learning resources. Gulliver's Travels, a Level 5 Reader, is A2 in the CEFR framework and includes practice for the Cambridge English A2 Flyers tests and KET exams. The longer text is made up of sentences with up to three clauses, more complex past and future tense structures, modal verbs and a wider variety of adverbs and pronouns. After a shipwreck, Gulliver finds himself on an island of tiny people and no way to get home. What adventures will he have?

My Farm Colouring Book

Key Words with Peter and Jane uses the most frequently met words in the English language as a starting point for learning to read successfully and confidently. The Key Words reading scheme is scientifically researched and world renowned. In book 4b, Peter and Jane meet the animals at a farm in 41 new words including, 'work', 'thanks', 'stop' and 'horses'. Once this book has been completed, the child moves on to book 4c. The Key Words with Peter and Jane books work because each of the key words is introduced gradually and repeated frequently. This builds confidence in children when they recognise these key words on sight (also known as the 'look and say' method of learning). Examples of key words are: the, one, two, he. There are 12 levels, each with 3 books: a, b, and c. Series a: Gradually introduces new words. Series b: Provides further practise of words featured in the 'a' series. Series c: Links reading with writing and phonics. All the words that have been introduced in each 'a' and 'b' book are also reinforced in the 'c' books.

Fantastic Science Facts

Peking, 1914. When the eight-year-old princess Eastern Jewel is caught spying on her father's liaison with a servant girl, she is banished from the palace, sent to live with a powerful family in Japan. Renamed Yoshiko Kawashima, she quickly falls in love with her adoptive country, where she earns a scandalous reputation, taking fencing lessons, smoking opium, and entertaining numerous lovers. Sent to Mongolia to become an obedient wife, Yoshiko mounts a daring escape and eventually finds her way back to Peking high society-this time with orders from the Japanese secret service. Based on the true story of a rebellious woman who earned a controversial place in history, The Private Papers of Eastern Jewel is a vibrant reimagining of a thrilling life-a rich historical epic of palace intrigue, sexual manipulation, and international espionage.

The Book of Humans

Zach Taylor is a successful businessman, but his ascension up the corporate ladder has not been without its fair share of losses, including his five-year-old daughter Isabelle, with whom he has all but lost contact. But his cold world, his frozen existence, is about to melt into a fiery hell. For Zach is about to discover that his father was a serial killer. Can the craving for killing be passed down from parent to child? Does murder flow in his veins? What kind of legacy has been lurking in the shadows of his past, waiting to step out of the darkness and reveal his true nature? And who is the handsome, mysterious stranger Zach now finds himself falling for? In the abandoned home of his childhood, the haunted visions of his past will once again become terrifyingly real. And Zach will be forced to meet his fate--whoever he may be.

Educational Psychology Series: Evaluating the Quality of Learning: The SOLO Taxonomy (Structure of the Observed Learning Outcome) focuses on the approaches, methodologies, and techniques employed in the valuation of the quality of learning. The publication first offers information on the quality and quantity of learning and origin and description of the Structure of the Observed Learning Outcome (SOLO) taxonomy. Discussions focus on general intellectual development and the growth of quality; some assumptions and applications of stage theory; from developmental stage to levels of learning quality; and general intellectual development and the growth of quality. The text then examines the teaching of history, elementary mathematics, English, and geography. Topics include interpreting a map and drawing conclusions, explaining a natural phenomenon, appreciation of poetry, implications for the teaching of history, English, and mathematics, numbers and operations, and general application of SOLO to history. The manuscript takes a look at modern languages, place of the taxonomy in instructional design, and some methodological considerations. Concerns include alternative formats for obtaining SOLO responses, instructional processes, curriculum analysis, remediation, and teacher intentions. The publication is a vital source of data for educators interested in the SOLO taxonomy.

Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince

Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets

'Welcome to the Knight Bus, emergency transport for the stranded witch or wizard. Just stick out your wand hand, step on board and we can take you anywhere you want to go.' When the Knight Bus crashes through the darkness and screeches to a halt in front of him, it's the start of another far from ordinary year at Hogwarts for Harry Potter. Sirius Black, escaped mass-murderer and follower of Lord Voldemort, is on the run - and they say he is coming after Harry. In his first ever Divination class, Professor Trelawney sees an omen of death in Harry's tea leaves But perhaps most terrifying of all are the Dementors patrolling the school grounds, with their soul-sucking kiss

Black Forest Burglary (Thea Stilton #30)

"This volume offers a unique, worldwide collection of national surveys into the developments of technology education in the past two decades. For twenty-two countries from five continents the major changes of this school subject are described by experts that have been involved in these changes for many years themselves. The studies deal with national curricula, teacher education programs, educational research into effects of technology education, and practical issue at classroom level".

The Spanish Prince's Virgin Bride

"Rutherford describes [The Book of Humans] as being about the paradox of how our evolutionary journey turned 'an otherwise average ape' into one capable of creating complex tools, art, music, science, and engineering. It's an intriguing question, one his book sets against descriptions of the infinitely amusing strategies and antics of a dizzying array of animals."—The New York Times Book Review Publisher's Note: The Book of Humans was previously published in hardcover as Humanimal. In this new evolutionary history, geneticist Adam Rutherford explores the profound paradox of the human animal. Looking for answers across the animal kingdom, he finds that many things once considered exclusively human are not: We aren't the only species that "speaks," makes tools, or has sex outside of procreation. Seeing as our genome is 98 percent identical to a chimpanzee's, our DNA doesn't set us far apart, either. How, then, did we develop the most complex culture ever observed? The Book of Humans proves that we are animals indeed—and reveals how we truly are extraordinary.

Interactive General Chemistry meets students where they are with a general chemistry program designed for the way students learn. Achieve provides a new platform for Interactive General Chemistry, thoughtfully developed to engage students for better outcomes. Powerful data and analytics provide instructors with actionable insights on a platform that allows flexibility to align with a broad variety of teaching and learning styles and the exciting Interactive General Chemistry program! Whether a student's learning path starts with problem solving or with reading, Interactive General Chemistry delivers the learning experience he or she needs to succeed in general chemistry. Built from the ground up as a digital learning program, Interactive General Chemistry combines the Sapling Learning homework platform with a robust e-book with seamlessly embedded, multimedia-rich learning resources. This flexible learning environment helps students effectively and efficiently tackle chemistry concepts and problem solving. Student-centered development In addition to Macmillan's standard rigorous peer review process, student involvement was critical to the development and design of Interactive General Chemistry. Using extensive research on student study behavior and data collection on the resources and tools that most effectively promote understanding, we crafted this complete course solution to intentionally embrace the way that students learn. Digital-first experience Interactive General Chemistry was built from the ground up to take full advantage of the digital learning environment. High-quality multimedia resources--including Sapling interactives, PhET simulations, and new whiteboard videos by Tyler DeWitt--are seamlessly integrated into a streamlined, uncluttered e-book. Embedded links provide easy and efficient navigation, enabling students to link to review material and definitions as needed. Problems drive purposeful study Our research into students' study behavior showed that students learn best by doing--so with Interactive General Chemistry, homework problems are designed to be a front door for learning. Expanding upon the acclaimed Sapling homework--where every problem contains hints, targeted feedback, and detailed step-by-step solutions--embedded resources link problems directly to the multimedia-rich e-book, providing just-in-time support at the section and chapter level.

The team behind How Google Works returns with management lessons from legendary coach and business executive, Bill Campbell, whose mentoring of some of our most successful modern entrepreneurs has helped create well over a trillion dollars in market value. Bill Campbell played an instrumental role in the growth of several prominent companies, such as Google, Apple, and Intuit, fostering deep relationships with Silicon Valley visionaries, including Steve Jobs, Larry Page, and Eric Schmidt. In addition, this business genius mentored dozens of other important leaders on both coasts, from entrepreneurs to venture capitalists to educators to football players, leaving behind a legacy of growing companies, successful people, respect, friendship, and love after his death in 2016. Leaders at Google for over a decade, Eric Schmidt, Jonathan Rosenberg, and Alan Eagle experienced firsthand how the man fondly known as Coach Bill built trusting relationships, fostered personal growth—even in those at the pinnacle of their careers—inspired courage, and identified and resolved simmering tensions that inevitably arise in fast-moving environments. To honor their mentor and inspire and teach future generations, they have codified his wisdom in this essential guide. Based on interviews with over eighty people who knew and loved Bill Campbell, Trillion Dollar Coach explains the Coach's principles and illustrates them with stories from the many great people and companies with which he worked. The result is a blueprint for forward-thinking business leaders and managers that will help them create higher performing and faster moving cultures, teams, and companies.

In the second half of the 21st century, an app became the most banned digital product of the known history. It was called Life. Its creators, Sandesh Singh Chhetri, and Paulus Markkanen, both forced to live the rest of their lives in a space station, Tiny Moon. The app was a big revolution. Even in the first three years after its creation, the worldwide alcohol and drug use decreased by sixty percent. People didn't need those anymore. They had Life now. The revolution started with Nobel laureated German theoretical physicist Joachim Rudiger's 'reverse time theory'. Based on his theory, scientists artificially created a state that evolves in a direction opposite to that of the thermodynamic arrow of time. Not long before, the silicon valley folk joined the game with their quantum computers. The rest was history. Life app dramatically changed our understanding of who we were. Before it, people split in half to a great extent. Those who believed that humankind had been created by God. And those who favored evolution theory. Now it was a scientific fact that both the religious beliefs and evolution theory had been wrong. The existence, as we experienced, simply did not exist. Scientists managed to observe beyond the Big Bang. The new face of science discarded the old one. With this new perspective, our previous unknown unknowns became known. Now humankind was able to bend the time and travel in time. In science fictions of the first quarter of the century and before, most time travel narratives described transportation of bodies through time zones. Now that we learned that our bodies, and even the concept we called time, didn't exist, we started to experience our past and future by connecting our brain waves to our distant ancestors, or to people who would have the same pedigree with us. Most people experienced the past. Because most of us were nostalgic. And most of us were afraid of the future. And it turned out our future fear was justified. Some of us experienced the last human beings' lives in the future. And this future was not a distant one. Learning that our precious Milky Way would collapse in a half-millennium shocked every living soul to the core. When you were in the app, you were just an observer. You couldn't control the mind of the host. But you could see what the host had seen, hear what the host had heard, taste what the had tasted, touch everything the host had touched. You could walk, talk, sleep, fight, fuck and get fucked through the host. You could also save the host you enjoyed in order to be able to be transferred into him or her again. In short, you could be anybody you want from the past and future, as long as you shared a bloodline with them. One of the creators dies and a crew of astronauts and reporters are sent to the Tiny Moon to interview with the other creator and bring the dead body back to the Earth. But the Finnish creator has his own agenda to set himself free for good. (The seventh of Captivating Tale is a technothriller short story.)
