Strategic Management: Concepts

Thompson/Strickland has always included the most recent research in strategy in a way that students can understand and apply it to business cases and problems. In addition, Thompson offers more coverage of strategy implementation than most other texts, which many instructors think is critical if students are to understand the how and not just the what and why. Thompson's coverage of Michael Porter's classic 5-forces model is clearer and more detailed than in other texts, according to reviewers. With this edition the market leader looks better than ever before, offering a new 4-color design, improved writing style, and two new chapters on global and e-commerce strategy. The Thompson and Strickland cases have always been another strong selling point. Over the years, this author team has developed a great network of case authors and is able to select from the cream of the crop. And, having taught the course themselves for many years, they are very experienced in selecting the types of cases that will spark student interest and generate lively classroom discussions. Many of the cases reflect high profile companies, products, and people that students will have heard of, know about from personal experience, or can easily identify with. The new case line-up

Strategic Management

This is the book that enables students to transfer conceptual classroom learning to strategic application in their professional lives. The new Australian edition of Strategic Management is the only text on the market that integrates the Dynamic Perspective of Strategic Management across all topics. It emphasises this throughout the text by incorporating 3 main themes: changing strategies for changing times, the integration of formulation and implementation and strategic leadership. The use of the Strategic Diamond model is also prominent through the text. The model effectively details five key strategic elements necessary for creating a complete strategy: arenas, vehicles, differentiators, staging, and economic logic. The Strategic Diamond gives students a solid model for considering all aspects of a strategy in order to create and implement a complete strategy. The arenas and staging elements deal specifically with the dynamic aspect of strategy. There are two How Would You Do That? exercises in each chapter, exposing students to the implementation challenges that companies face every day. These exercises ensure that implementation remains in the forefront of the students minds as they work through the text. With this interactive feature, students have a chance to place themselves into the role of a strategic decision maker at a well-known (and interesting) company. Using Excel, each How would you Do That clearly shows students the interdependence of formulation and implementation and lets them practice their decision making skills.

Strategic Management

"Why does the world need another strategy textbook? The answer is that we simply have not been able to find a textbook that we felt fully met the needs of our students. What are those needs? First, we wanted to write a textbook that would engage students' interest using numerous practical examples and tools that would help them actually do analysis to answer key strategic questions. For example, leading firms and strategy consulting firms have tools to teach strategists how to actually conduct a "5 Forces" analysis, calculate a scale or experience curve, or conduct a net promoter score analysis. We wanted to provide those tools. We also wanted to create interactive learning tools that would connect with a new generation of learners"--
